An introduction to Quanta Consulting

Quanta are a bespoke search agency with expert teams working across multiple specialist sectors including Technology, Energy and Consulting.

We develop and maintain close and trusting relationships with our candidates from Junior to Board level. We recognise the formula that drives the best candidates to move (or to stay) at any stage within their career.

We are able to facilitate high-volume interview and screening projects, on-boarding, VISA application and advisory for international candidates, employer branding, and our Senior Consultants specialise in helping you maximise the efficiency of your project hiring.

Our client base stretches from startups to multinationals, and we are comfortable placing candidates at any level. Our extensive database of active candidates is supplemented by unparalleled access to exclusive talent through our experienced research team. We excel in completing confidential and strategic hires.

Technology

At Quanta Technology, we differentiate ourselves from the competitors by providing bespoke recruitment solutions within the IT field. We are able to deliver to our clients full team specifications for entire IT projects; whether you are bringing your support team in-house, improving your cyber security in line with ISO 27001, or working on a global mobile platform, we can profile, quote, match, build and present your team from scratch.

We immerse ourselves in the culture and growth plans of our clients. Our consultants and researchers are experts in the identification and delivery of human capital for the Telecommunications, Information Security, Cloud, Big Data, Digital Media and Development sectors. This unique knowledge coupled with a background and active involvement in our industry verticals gives our consultants the ability to match candidates to the projects being worked on, and not just the job title.

Our team

Our dedicated technology team comprises of specialist consultants with a passion for IT and is supported by a permanent research team. They both know and understand deeply the fast-moving and changing nature of this sector and keep themselves updated and aware about new trends in the Technology field.

It is well known that the best candidates in any industry vertical are the passive ones and Quanta is proud to offer a unique headhunting approach.

Our clients

Quanta works with some of the World's leading companies to provide qualified, experienced and highly personable staff within budget and time frame.

We deal with technology companies of all sizes, from global multinationals, SMEs, and equally as importantly, emerging tech start-ups that are being funded through venture capital, private equity and crowd sourcing. Quanta therefore understand that every client's hiring needs are different and every set of mandates are unique - we tailor our services accordingly for each of our individual clients.

Quanta core values

Honesty and integrity

We strive to show transparency in everything we do. We believe that being honest and straightforward creates the best business platform in which to operate. We have strong internal procedures in place to monitor our consultant's practices and our reputation is the most important factor in Quanta's success.

Reliability

We believe a reputation is built on being reliable. We don't over promise clients and candidates and deliver on what we set out to do. At Quanta the nature of our business means we have a dual focus – on the needs of both our clients and candidates. We have high expectations of our role and believe that being reliable, honest and professional allows the formation of lasting business relationships.

Innovation

The market and environment we recruit within are constantly changing and that means that we as a business must adapt. We strive to think of innovative ways of providing solutions to many of our client's problems. Quanta's consultants are constantly pushing the boundaries in finding solutions to our client's needs of attracting and retaining talent.

Ambition

Quanta continues to develop as a business and believe that our ambition only benefits both our clients and candidates. Quanta strives to be the best within the industry and continue to raise standards in both the delivery of contract and permanent staff. We feel this is reflected internally with the level, attributes and ability of staff we hire.

Quality of service

Quanta's dedication to quality is what sets us apart from our competitors. Quanta prides itself on the levels of service we give to clients and candidates at all stages of the hiring process. From initial induction to aftercare and contractor welfare, we believe that the level of service is at the core of our business ethos.

At the heart of everything that we do is a set of core values. Quanta adheres to these five competencies in all areas of our business practice.
